New annexation move Idea's brainstorm

The county's Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) has received a request from landowners in another portion of unincorporated Colma who are requesting annexation by the Town of Colma.

That idea is the brainstorm of a resident of the Sterling Park area of unincorporated Colma who, appropriately, is named Idea Mibelli.

Mrs. Mibelli said she has gathered the signatures of nearly 100 of her neighbors who, like she, would like the four-block area to be part of Colma.

The commissioners have agreed to consider her request at their next regular meeting, May 16.

On the same agenda is a similar request by 23 landowners in an adjacent, .80-acre portion of unincorporated Colma who previously presented a petition to LAFCO.

Because of the great interest shown by North County residents, the commissioners will meet May 16 in the Daly City City Hall at 7:30 p.m. (They usually meet at 1 p.m. in the Hall of Justice in Redwood City.)

The area that Mrs. Mibelli and her neighbors want annexed primarily is residential in nature and runs from "A" Street to "D" Street, between Hillside Boulevard and El Camino Real. There are two flower businesses in the neighborhood.

The other area is commercial and comprises about half of all of unincorporated Colma. It lies between San Pedro Road and the Colma city line and between Junipero Serra Boulevard and El Camino Real.

Annexing the two areas would mean more money in the bank for the Town of Colma. But the Broadmoor Police Commission, which receives tax money to patrol unincorporated area, is not pleased by the annexation proposals.

Proponents of both proposed annexations say they fear Daly City will gobble them up unless they are annexed by Colma. A previous LAFCO study determined that both areas fall under Daly City's "sphere of influence."

"We want to keep this area the way it is. We don't want to be like Daly City. We prefer to be like a little town," explained Mrs. Mibelli.

James Millett, who worked on the annexation campaign for the adjacent business area said, "We have been called Colma for many years. Some of us have owned property there for over 100 years. We would not like, after all these years, to be called Daly City."

North jail expected by '81

By HEIDI VAN ZANT

A new North County jail should be completed by late 1981.

That was the word Friday from Supervisor Fred Lyon at the site dedication of a pre-arraignment and detention facility adjacent to the Northern Judicial District Municipal Courthouse in South San Francisco.

He presented a time table that calls for San Mateo County supervisors to take action on the jail May 12. By late fall preliminary drawings should be completed, a state review can be finished in December and bids can be let the following July.

Construction should be finished by August of 1981, he said, and the jail ready for occupancy Sept. 1.

North County prisoners currently are taken to a temporary detention center at the Daly City jail. That jail has a capacity for 28 persons.

The new pre-arraignment facility will have a capacity for 50 prisoners, a booking area, drunk tank and padded cells, according to county budget coordinator Jay Gellert.

After the dedication ceremony, Gellert said the North County jail will cost $1.5 million to plan and construct. He said the money may come from cost-savings the county has accumulated this fiscal year.

About 50 persons attended the site dedication, including several North County police chiefs, city managers and City Council members.

Sheriff John McDonald said when he was appointed sheriff six years ago the first group he met with was the Council of mayors — to discuss a new North County jail.

"It's been a long time coming but we're going to start," he said, noting the police chiefs are working with his office on the planning of the jail.

"Keep to that timetable," he said, "so that that dream we've had for so many years will become a reality."

Daly City Police Chief David Hansen, who has been chief for five years, said later he has worked on building a new jail ever since being named chief.

"We're at the end of the beginning," he told those gathered for the dedication.

Congressman Bill Royer, R-Redwood City, making one of his first public appearances in North County since being elected to Congress earlier this month, said he was glad a schedule has been prepared.

Royer, who supported building a new holding facility during his campaign, said, "It's something everybody fought for a long time."

His final recommendation as a supervisor was that funds be appropriated this year for construction of a jail. However, the board agreed recently to delay action on his suggestion.

Supervisors did agree, though, that a permanent pre-arraignment and detention facility remains a top priority.

Municipal Court Judge Margaret Kemp said she hoped the jail would be "just a beginning." She wants it eventually expanded to include room for a work furlough program and a courtroom.

Ms. Kemp said later it sometimes is easier to bring the judge and court reporter to the prisoner than vice versa.

DC allocates more money to dumpsite

The council allocated that sum to complete the task of covering over the former dump site and making it into a park, raising the total cost of the project from $258,700 to $458,000.

Daly City has no choice in the matter. The Regional Water Quality Control Board decreed that the dump site must be closed, for fear that garbage might slide into the sea.

The board originally gave Daly City until last Oct. 31 to complete the job. A RWQCB representative told the city the board would ignore that deadline as long as Daly City continued to work on the dump in good faith.

According to Ron Mitchell, assistant to the city manager, the delay and higher cost of the project are due to rain, vandalism and an unusual number of problems that caused more work for the engineers, KCA Engineers, Inc., and John Lowney, soil engineer.

One problem is that the site sits right on the San Andreas Fault.

Mitchell said it will take about 10 more weeks to complete the project. The city still has to finish grading the land, correct erosion problems caused by rain, install a drainage system, seed the land and put in gas wells to allow the methane gas from the garbage to dissipate.

The adjacent transfer station, used to compact garbage, recently was finished and dedicated but is not yet in operation.

In other business, the council authorized the hiring of Steven Kenney of the law firm of Maloney, Chase, Fisher and Hurst of San Francisco to settle the legal question of whether or not Daly City was covered by insuranceat the time streets were widened next to Colma Elementary School.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky declined to reveal the hourly rate at which Kenney will be paid, saying the financial arrangement is "confidential."

The Jefferson Elementary School District has sued Daly City over the increasednoise that resulted after the road project was completed.

The city contends it has no liability in the matter.

Determining whether or not the city was covered with insurance at the time is a difficult matter because approximately 20 different companies handled Daly City's insurance coverage during the time the street was being constructed.

The council also cleared the way for construction of a duplex on Frankfort Street near Oliver Street, despite protests from two nearby residents.

The only council member opposing the duplex, which will be built by Ropi Construction, was James Tucker, who said he is worried that the firm plans to build five more

Westlake Park is named for Henry Doelger

With very little discussion, the Daly City City Council voted unanimously Monday night to rename Westlake Park "Henry Doelger Westlake Park."

Renaming Westlake Park in memory of the late developer was one of three suggestions forwarded to the council by the local History, Arts and Science Commission.

The other ideas were to rename Westlake Library as "Henry Doelger Memorial Library" or to rename Westlake School as "Henry Doegler School."

The commission had rejected other suggestions to rename Westlake Shopping Center, Park Plaza Drive, Thornton Beach, North and South Mayfair avenues, or Northgate Avenue.

Before the council voted on the motion to rename Westlake Park, which is located near the intersection of John Daly and Lake Merced boulevards, Councilman James Tucker asked with a smile, "You mean just the park, nothing to the south?"

The other council members stated firmly that they did not intend to rename the North San Mateo County Sanitation District offices and sewage treatment plant located south of the park.

Ottoboni not the state's 'longest' city councilman

Raymond Ottoboni couldn't help boasting.

"You know," he'd say proudly, "this year I became the councilman with the longest term in the whole state. What do you think about that?"

In March, the Colma City Council member completed his 29th consecutive year on the council. In March 1982, when his current term is up, he will mark 32 years in office.

But, unfortunately, Ottoboni will have to stay in office quite a bit longer to beat the state record.

It is held by the late James Lemue, who was serving his 42nd consecutive year on the Angels Camp City Council when he died in office in 1978 at the age of 86.

Lemue was tracked down by the enterprising city clerk of Benicia, Betty Pellinen, who wondered whether local Councilman James Lemos' 33 years in office qualified for the state record when Lemos retired in 1978.

Mrs. Pellinen sent out a questionnaire last year to every city clerk in the state. In addition to Lemue and Lemos, it turns out that five other council members have been in office longer than Ottoboni:

— Alfred J. Lacoste, who served for 40 consecutive years (1924-1964) on the Emeryville City Council, 25 of them as mayor

— James Valente, another Angels Camp City Council oldtimer, who served 40 consecutive years before he retired in 1972

— H.W. Bott, who served 35 consecutive years (1905-1940) on the Concord City Council

— Carl Kuhn, who has been on the Sutter Creek City Council for 35 consecutive years and was just re-elected last year to another four-year term

— August Gronwoldt, who sat on the Redding City Council for 33 years, from 1906 to 1914 and from 1920 to 1945

In order to beat the state record, Ottoboni would have to be re-elected to three more four-year terms after he completes his present term in 1982 and stay in office 11 of those 12 years.

The 73-year-old councilman would be 87 when he beat the record.

To complicate matters, Ottoboni, along with two other Colma council members is the target of a recall movement.

Informed that he does not have the state longevity record, as he believed, Ottoboni looked crestfallen.

But he soon perked up. "Well, I guess I've got the record for San Mateo County anyway," he declared.

Daly City man held in slaying

The shooting death of a prison parolee in San Bruno early Sunday morning has led to the arrest of a Daly City man on suspicion of murder, according to police.

Patrick K. Gallaher, 29, was arrested Monday and was to have been arraigned this morning in Northern District Municipal Court in South San Francisco on the murder count.

Larry Gene Rutherford, 25, 527 Esplanade, Pacifica, was found dead behind the wheel of his parked car at Sylvan and Huntington avenues at 1:30 a.m. Sunday by police. The car's lights were on and the motor running.

Gallaher and Rutherford apparently had been involved in a long-standing argument over a possible theft of Gallaher's motorcycle and were known to police because they had clashed over it before, officers said.

The investigation, led by Sgt. Larry Clifford, included statements from witnesses and resulted in Gallaher's arrest, it was reported.

Police said they haven't found the weapon used in the killing, but believe it was a large-caliber pistol. Rutherford had been shot twice in the head at close range, according to reports.

Rutherford was first in trouble when, as a teen-ager in 1970, he was committed to the California Youth Authority for "long-term rehabilitation" for his complicity in the mur-

Council impatient over demolitions

One prospective buyer of a house on the future site of Lincoln Park was turned away and another got a two-week reprieve Monday night from the Daly City City Council.

Tired of the seemingly endless battles connected with clearing the land for the park in the Crocker section of Daly City, the council turned down a bid of $250 by Robert Brugioni of San Mateo for a house at 941 Brunswick — the same bid they had turned down several weeks ago as insultingly low.

Councilman Anthony Giammona was the only person to vote against the bid rejection.

City Manager David Rowe explained that any action by the council other than ordering demolition of the structure might result in legal complications and substantial delays in the park plans.

Brugioni said he was "very bitter" about the council's action. He pointed out that the city may have to pay $1,800 to have the house demolished, instead of making $250, and that he had arranged to have the house moved by next Monday.

Brugioni said he lost $272.50 in non-refundable permit fees. He said he filed for the permits with the county as soon as he learned he had the lowest bid on the house, before the council acted to reject all bids.

"My feeling is mine was the low bid and it should be honored...I conformed to all the contract conditions," he said.

But Rowe said the city will now entertain bids for demolition of the house and that the low bidder may move or salvage the house rather than demolish it.

The council also lost patience with a San Francisco resident, Alva Anderson, who reported that San Francisco had not yet processed a permit that would allow him to move the house he had purchased at 201 Templeton St.

At a prior meeting, the council had given Anderson April 23 as the final deadline by which to move the house.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky said Anderson had been "less than diligent" in filing for the necessary permit. He noted that Anderson had not paid the city for the house until

Victims of shootings are 'stable'

The victims of two separate shootings over the weekend in Daly City were reported in stable condition in area hospitals Tuesday.

The first, occurring at about 7 p.m. Saturday, was an accident to a security guard. Richard Martinez, 23, a Westlake Associates patrol officer, was exiting his patrol car behind 405 Palmcrest Ave., near the Westlake Associates office, when his revolver fired while in its holster, according to Daly City police.

The bullet went through Martinez' right foot and lodged in the sole of his shoe, police said. The mishap may have been caused by the hammer of the pistol being drawn back on the steering wheel of the car as Martinez got out, officers went on.

The victim is at Mary's Help Hospital.

Martinez is employed full-time as a security guard, but also is a part-time reserve with the Broadmoor Police Department. Westlake Associates is the former Henry Doelger Enterprises, the construction firm owned by the late Henry Doelger, which developed Westlake.

OVERPASS DEATH

Highway Patrolmen and police were called to the Highway 280-John Daly Boulevard freeway interchange in Daly City at about 10 a.m. Monday after an unidentified man apparently had leaped to his death from the overpass to the freeway pavement below. Police still were investigating Tuesday. The name of the victim was not released, pending notification of next of kin.

Broadmoor hunts rapist

Broadmoor police are looking for a man who reportedly raped a local woman Saturday about 7:30 p.m.

According to Broadmoor Police Chief Bill Noonan, the suspect was hiding in the 28-year-old victim's garage and attacked her when she went to the garage to get a glass of wine.

Noonan said the suspect fled immediately after raping the victim in the front room of her home.

Police are searching for a white 6-foot-4 man about 17 years old, weighing 220 pounds, with light brown hair combed forward over his forehead.

Other action:

• The council members adopted an ordinance giving each of them a 5 percent monthly salary increase, from $337.50 to $354.37.

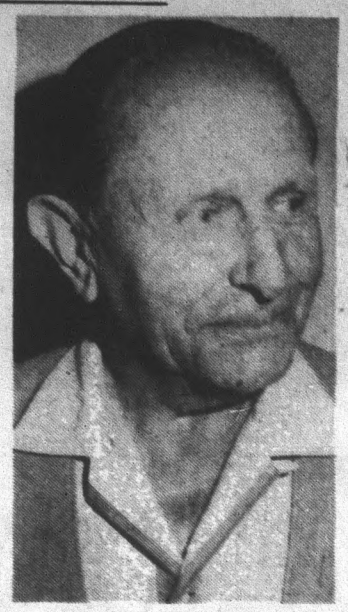

• Citizen Ernest Pezzola complained about the Daly City Police Department's failure to ticket illegally parked cars while its only parking enforcement officer was out ill. Council members said they believe the department plans to hire another parking enforcement officer and referred Pezzola's complaint to Police Chief David Hansen.

• Although two residents objected, the council voted 4-1 to have council meeting minutes written in a much more abbreviated form. Councilman William Schumacher voted against the proposal, noting that minutes are the only record of the council's actions.

• The council scheduled public hearings for May 14 on requests for zone changes at 1624 Bryant St. and for property at the northeast intersection of Hyde Court and King Drive.

• The council commended Ernest J. Ribera, associate superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School District, who will retire this month.

• The council accepted as completed the new elevator in City Hall, which cost $176,833.09 and was paid for by a federal grant for handicapped facilities, and traffic signal work at four intersections, which cost $70,275.75.

Police were called to the scene of the other shooting at about noon Sunday. They reported that Mario Flores, 22, had been shot several times with a small-caliber weapon at 29 Peoria St.

Officers said they had no suspects or motives for that one.

Flores was taken to Mary's Help but transferred to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco.

der and robbery of Allan W. Daly in San Francisco. Daly was the production manager of the San Rafael Independent-Journal newspaper, then in the midst of a bitter strike.

Rutherford was paroled in March of 1973 but arrested later than year on two counts of armed robbery and sent to prison. He was released a few years later, then was sent back to San Quentin Prison Sept. 6, 1978 for violation of parole.

Rutherford was released again Nov. 18, 1978 but soon was incarcerated at the Redwood City jail on another parole violation commitment, police said.

He served 124 days in jail and was released April 4 of this year. State Parole Agent Steve Schroeder said Rutherford had been a "high control" case for his office, meaning agents there had had more contacts with him than usual over the years.

Feb. 21, six weeks after the council accepted his bid, and that a letter Anderson brought from the San Francisco planning department said Anderson had not filed for the permit until March 12.

Anderson said he had filed for the permit in January and that San Francisco sat on his application for many weeks.

The council agreed to give Anderson two more weeks to produce papers proving that he had, indeed, filed for the permit in January. They asked him to give those documents to Polonsky prior to the next council meeting.

In addition to these two homes, two more houses must be cleared before work can begin on Lincoln Park, which will be bounded by Brunswick, Templeton, Acton and Winchester streets.

The council has agreed to pay Mission Bay Developers $1,800 to remove the house at 985 Brunswick St.

The final property could cause a significant delay in the park plans.

At Councilman James Tucker's request, the council will soon consider declaring the house at 967 Brunswick St. as surplus property that would be offered for sale.

Tucker's vote presumably will mean that three of the five council members will agree to put that house on the auction block.

Offering the house for sale would mean a delay of at least two months before the home legally would have to be removed from the site.

Daly City has spent more than $1.5 million acquiring property for the park.

Supervisors reassign Royer posts

Committee assignments formerly held by Rep. Bill Royer have been made by Fred Lyon, chairman of the county Board of Supervisors.

Lyon announced that he would take over Royer's seat on the Local Agency Formation Commission.

Supervisor John Ward was assigned a seat on the SamTrans board of directors as well as a post on the executive committee of the County Supervisors Association of California.

The board liaison position to the County Fair Board was given to Supervisor Edward Bacciocco. Supervisor James Fitzgerald was assigned to take over Ward's seat on the Hospital Consortium.

Royer's seat on the Metropolitan Transportation Commission will be filled at a later date, Lyon said.

The supervisors will hold these positions until a successor to Royer, who has been elected to Congress, is selected.

A clean-up challenge

THANKS— BUSINESS IS GREAT!

Your acceptance of HBO and the other Satellite Services has been overwhelming!

To show our appreciation, your TCI cable system will —

- Extend the special discount on both cable and HBO connection fees from April 27 thru Monday, May 14.

'Life's moving pictures'

"To me it seems as if when God conceived the world that was Poetry; He formed it, and that was Sculpture; He colored it, and that was Painting; He peopled it with living beings, and that was the grand, divine, eternal Drama."

Charlotte Cushman

"Well-wrought plays," wrote Matthew Green, "are life's moving pictures." They are portrayals of the moving, suffering, struggling spirit of man, "And hold up true mirrors to our sight."

Truly the community that has a drama program is fortunate, indeed. And fortunate are the young people who can participate in drama during their school years. More than any other students they have an opportunity to learn of pity and fear and humor and love. As Milton said, they learn "to purge the mind" and "to temper and reduce their passions to just measure with a kind of delight stirred up . . . by seeing those passions well imitated."

Fortunate, then, is the community of the Daly City-Colma area. During the months of May and June it will be treated to some very fine school plays. On May 3, 4, and 5, Westmoor High School will present "The Diary of Anne Frank." This is an intense play, requiring the actors to set a deep mood and maintain it through deliberate movements and by the way they speak the lines.

On the same weekend, and again on the following weekend, Serramonte High School will perform that delightful fairy tale "Once Upon a Mattress."

For this production some of Serramonte's thespians will be required to play roles far different from any they have enacted before. The productions on May 6 and 10 are slated for 7 p.m. Those on May 4, 5, 11 and 12 are scheduled for 8 p.m. For the benefit of senior citizens and students, matinee productions are scheduled for 10 a.m. on May 8 and 11. "Once Upon a Mattress" never loses its charm, though one may see it many times.

Skyline College will offer two one-act plays May 18-19 and May 24-26, The "Zoo Story" and "The Dutchman." Considering the high quality of Skyline's dramatic productions, one can expect these plays to be performed with skill. Let it be noted that Skyline already has graced the spring season with its rendition of "Stage Door," which was performed April 17 to 21.

The Jefferson Elementary School District has entered the drama field with some interesting choices. That tuneful bit of fun, "The Wizard of Oz," will be presented at Christopher Columbus school May 22; at M. Pauline Brown School May 23-24; at Garden Village School May 21 and June 1; and at Westlake School June 5 and 6. Each production is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Adding to the Community's enjoyment, "The Prince and the Pauper," Mark Twain's delightful story, will be presented at Colma K-5 at 7:30 p.m. May 30 and 31st.

The next day Daniel Webster School will be the scene of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore." This will present a challenge to junior high and elementary school children but it will be great fun for them and for all who watch.

On the same evenings, May 30 and 31, Terra Nova High School will present a play about the life of Count Dracula. Here is another production requiring the control of a mood. It should be great fun.

Other than these dramatic events, every junior high and elementary school will be presenting its spring musical. These activities are being presented in spite of drastically reduced budgets. Surely they deserve public support.

Samuel Chandler

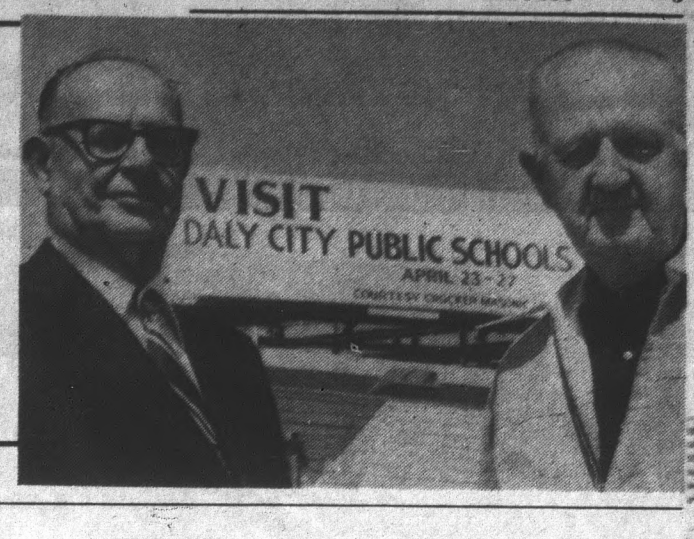

Perhaps the highlight of the season will be Skyline College's Choir and Choral Concert June 8 and 9 in the college auditorium. Mark this down as something to see and hear.

In the wake of Proposition 13 the musical and dramatic arts have been curtailed drastically, yet the teachers and the students have carried on in an admirable way. Now is the time to show them that the public appreciates their efforts and intends for them to be funded.

SPOTLIGHT

Turning the public's attention to Daly City Public Schools Week this week is the goal of the sign members of Crocker Masonic Lodge 454 erected near the intersection of Mission Street and John Daly Boulevard. Shown are Walter Kent, left, master of the Lodge, and Fred McDonald, secretary.

Concert at Westlake

The Daly City History, Arts and Science Commission and Art-Rise of San Bruno will present Rob Roy Woodman conducting the Woodman Classic Ensemble in a free concert April 29 at 4 p.m. at the Westlake Community Center on Lake Merced Boulevard in Daly City. This musical program will be introducing one project of the H.A.S. Commission to the North County communities, and leading into another endeavor, the Daly City Arts Festival in mid-May.

Art-Rise, a non-profit organization, formed for the purpose of improving the cultural environment of North San Mateo County, under the directorship of Lois Nierenberg, has coordinated and provided resources for this project from its talent bank files and donors.

Woodman will conduct the nine-piece string orchestra in the works of Britten, Mozart, Vivaldi, Pachelbel, and Elgar, and will provide commentary and explanations of the works. Members of the Woodman Classic Ensemble are professionals who play in various Bay Area symphony orchestras.

The Daly City Recreation Department will provide the Westlake Community Center facility, and the Jefferson Union High School District will supply bus transportation to senior groups in Daly City.

Sponsorship of the program is by the Musicians Performance Trust Fund, through the American Federation of Musicians Union Local 6, Glendale Federal Savings, and Serramonte Shopping Center.

There are no prerequisites for the course. Three tutorial assignments must be completed prior to the field trip. There will be a minimal charge between $30 and $50 to cover the cost of food for students. Students will provide their own camping gear. Transportation will be provided.

Students will learn to identify plants and animals of ths Sierra Nevada. Emphasis will be placed on the concept of ecosystem with specific examples from the study area. Geological history and other physical factors will be studied in relation to the plant and animal distribution.

For further information, phone 355-700, ext. 376.

'Friends' have a book fair

The Friends of the Daly City Library 15th annual Spring Book Fair will be held April 28 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Garden Court and environs of Westlake Shopping Center Mall.

On sale will be used books, records and sheet music. The truckloads of books are for home study, research and pleasure. Several specialties will be offered.

Selected for the silent auctions at 10 and 11 a.m. are a large number of unusual books, including matched sets of Robert Louis Stevenson, Rudyard Kipling, Richard Harding Davis, Winston Churchill, and books from the 1800s.

Biographies and autobiographies will have their own table. The non-fiction books are divided into over 40 categories, a few of which are art, music, medicine, health and sports. Sanskrit and Polish are two of the foreign languages. Among the children's books are many for those 10 and older.

National Geographics, Sunset, Smithsonian, Natural History, Scientific American, Popular Mechanics, and Tennis are some of the magazines.

Among members assuming special tasks are Alice Barichievich, parking lanai; Helen Robinson, silent auctions; Cecilia Enright, music; Belva Carroll, reference; and Virginia Tierney, coordinator. Boy Scout Troops 369, 343, and 83 will assist with setting up and closing, and helping will be the recreation and fire departments.

Jefferson High School's badminton team has won all of its first six league matches, ending the first round-robin.

Jeff played Terra Nova April 3 and took the victory by a score of 7-2. They also shelled El Camino, 9-0, April 4. With great skill, Jeff defeated Oceana 9-0 April 17. Then April 18, Jeff played Serramonte and won again, by the same 9-0.

Jeff's gymnastics team had its first meet against Oceana recently. Oceana won over Jeff's intermediate and beginners, but the novices took a defeat. Their second meet March 28 was against El Camino, and unfortunately, El Camino won the intermediate and beginners, but by only a few tenths of a point. Jeff's novices pulled through with a victory. The third meet, against Serramonte on April 4, was a success. The beginners took a victory along with the novices.

Jeff's small swim team is putting up a good fight this year. It had its third swim meet March 27 against El Camino at Jeff but was defeated. The next meet was at Half Moon Bay, and the frosh-soph took a victory. The following week, the team had a meet against Terra Nova, and lost.

NPL swimming trials will be April 24 and NPL finals April 27.

Juniors were busy first, second and third periods April 6, distributing Eastergrams. Eastergrams are carnations attached with personal messages from sweethearts, secret admirers or friends. The Eastergrams were sold at 50c a carnation as a fund-raising activity. Part of the profit will go to their Great America trip and the Junior-Senior Prom.

Jeff's carnival is coming up April 26, 27, 28 and 29. We will have booths like the "wheel of fortune", "dime pitch", a "jail" and many more. Rides include the zipper, octopus, bumper cars and others.

Jeff had its April Spring rally last Friday. Starting off was the traditional "Victory" followed by the JV pom-pon girls, who danced their way through "Hot Number". Also performing were the third-place winners from the recent school talent show, who did their routine to "Superman."

Coach Brandi introduced Jeff's great baseball team, and Coach Alvarado introduced Jeff's super track team. Following this was the "Continental Lockers" dance group and the professional "San Francisco Dancers."

To get into the prom spirit, there was a tuxedo fashion show, displaying Gingiss formalwear. After that was the display by the first-place talent show winners, modeling to "Disco Nights."

Entertaining students also were the varsity cheerleaders, with a cheer. The Casualistics dance group took the floor next with the beat of "Hot Number," followed by the Gold T Lockers dance group dancing to "Unfinished Business."

The rally, called a success, was brought to a close by the pep staff in "Hail to the Blue."

Jeff's CSF is planning its annual camping trip to Camp Cutter this year. The trip, April 30 to May 2, will be enjoyable and educational and will include group decision-making, leadership training, slide shows and natural history lectures. Leisure activities include swimming, archery, canoeing, baseball and hiking.

To help pay for the trip the CSF has had fund-raisers such as a two-week candy sale and a carnival booth.

Several CSF students also visited Woodside High School April 21 for the 1979 Central Coast Regional Conference. The conference was attended by most CSF clubs throughout the Central Coast. Part of the conference involves lectures from interesting session leaders such as the nation's youngest pilot; KRON-TV's anchorman, Fred LaCosse; two hypnotists; an astrologist; a team from the Berkeley Psychic Institute; a photographer; a poet, and many more.

The conference was interesting and students are looking forward to it next year.

Acupuncture for pets

By D. R. BARNETT, DVM

QUESTION: Have you ever recommended acupuncture for pets? If so, what kind? I have a feeling that acupuncture is a "mind-healing" method that wouldn't be very effective with animals. P.B.

ANSWER: Recently I attended a meeting where a veterinarian spoke briefly about acupuncture in animals. My knowledge in this area is very limited, but I hope I have an open mind concerning its use. I have referred one case (a dog with a spinal problem) to an acupuncturist at the owner's request. The results were disappointing but one shouldn't form an opinion from only one experience. Acupuncture obviously has benefits in humans in certain types of problems so I think there might be benefits for animals. I guess I could be considered a skeptic who could be convinced.

QUESTION: About four years ago someone left a half-grown, pure-white kitten on my front porch. She was in a box lined with an old blanket and not in very good shape. Since then she has had the best of care and we love her very much. Her only problem is that her eyes have a tendency to run a little. I have washed them with a solution of boric acid and also used Wyeth's Collyrium (eye-wash). Now I'm using vaseline which seems better than the other two, but the eyes still water. Do white cats have a tendency to have pink eye? What kind of eye-wash should I use? M.N.B.

ANSWER: White cats are much more sensitive to sunlight than other cats and often develop a photo-sensitization (sunburn) along the edges of their ears that sometimes will develop into a cancerous condition. I haven't seen eye problems in white cats due to this, but I suppose it might occur. I would suspect an infection or allergy affecting the eyes, but the cat should be examined by your veterinarian, who can recommend the eye-wash to use.

Ernie Ribera compiled a rich sports legacy

Ernie Ribera, after 31 years of service to the Jefferson Union High School District, is retiring from his post as associate superintendent-operations. Actually, he's only retiring from the JUHSD. He'll be picking up his long association with education as business manager of Sacred Heart School in Menlo Park.

Some of you may be wondering why Ribera, the old Marine colonel who was Oceana High's first principal (1962), rates space in a sports column.

Well, aside from the fact that he served for 11 years on the San Mateo County Park and Recreation Commission, Ernie was one heck of a track man at San Jose State, a fine track coach at Jefferson High and has spawned eight children, all of them athletes in local schools and most of them also fine track performers. A couple of years ago I devoted a column just to the athletic accomplishments of Ernie's kids.

Here's an update on a few Riberas: Ernie, Jr., just recently was graduated from Michigan State medical school and is now in residency at the Naval Hospital in San Diego; Jim is a Marine Corps lieutenant in flight school at Pensacola; Bill is running track as a freshman for Notre Dame; and Theresa, who put in a year as badminton coach at Jefferson High and won the NPL title there, now is a flight attendant with United Airlines in Chicago. The report is that when Theresa took her physical fitness tests she blew them to smithereens, setting new United Airlines standards for stews.

Ernie's being given an official farewell at a testimonial dinner on May 4 at the San Mateo Elks Club (229 West 20th Ave.). He will be toasted, undoubtedly, from the 6:30 no-host cocktail hour (which probably will last more than an hour) on through the prime rib dinner and into the evening, or early morning. His friends have that kind of loyalty — and endurance.

I don't know if there are still any tickets left, but if there are and you want to join in the frivolity, call Tom Mohr, the principal at Oceana High, and make your reservation to honor the old jock-colonel.

Has anybody else noticed the parallels between the 1974-75, 1975-76 Warriors and the 1977-78, 1978-79 Washington Bullets?

Both wore opponents down with virtually two complete "first teams," and both played solid defense. Both were considered fluke champs in the championship seasons, although both played well in regular season, and superbly in the playoffs, as they seemed to peak for the real pressure games. Both proved themselves no flukes at all by coming back the next season to compile the best records in the NBA. Ironically, Washington was a big part of the Warrior championship season because it was they — the odds-on favorites — whom the Warriors blew off the court in four straight to lift the title.)

Now, only one link remains for Washington to complete the parallel perfectly — to collapse in the playoffs.

Cogent comment on the Warriors by Joe Gilmartin in The Sporting News:

"The Warrior outlook is really not as bleak as their present position would suggest. This is a young team which suffered just enough misfortune and just enough bad health to come up about two minutes short in most games this season. It is, in fact, a team with a more promising future than the Lakers."

And about the Lakers, in part:

". . . they may be inflicted . . . with Rams' disease, an ailment indigenous to the Los Angeles area which leads people to believe the problem is underperformance when, in reality, it is over-expectation.

"It just may be that the Lakers, who have been accused of indifference, are merely incompetent . . ."

Sudden statistic: The Warriors' Robert Parish was the best defensive rebounder in the NBA, per minutes played.

I recently was talking to Billy Wilson, the former all-time great 49er end who now is running his liquor store and coaching a semi-pro foooball team in San Jose, and he was talking about how he's more excited about the 49ers this year "than I have been in the last 10."

But Wilson also thought that "It's really dumb not getting Lou Spadia back in the operation in some capacity. He's a low-key guy, but he knows so many people and he could have helped them even last year."

So a few days after the conversation, Spadia was cut completely loose from the 49er organization.

Dumb!

Baseball notes: I don't care what they say, the Reds miss Pete Rose. He was their catalyst. If your team held a slim lead and he came to the plate late in the game, he scared hell out of you, because you just knew he'd start a rally.

Now, they're just not the same old Reds. They're still dangerous, but they no longer intimidate. It started when they traded away Tony Perez. He was their pilot. Rose was the spark.

The only thing that's half-way well publicized about Darrell Evans is his home run record while he was with Atlanta. Not much is said about two other strong aspects of his game, the ability to get on base, and his defense.

Evans, holds the National League record for most double plays by a third baseman, 45 (1974); led NL third-sackers in DP's twice, with that 45 in '74 and with 41 the following year; and led the league in total chances for a third baseman for three consecutive years with 471 in 1973, 578 in '74, and 578 in '75.

And, he holds the NL record for most consecutive games drawing at least one walk — 15 — in 1976; and twice has led the league in walks, with 124 in 1973 and 126 in '74.

Last year, incidentally, Evans led the Giants in bases on balls, with 105. The closest to him was Jack Clark, with 50. Surprisingly, neither Clark nor McCovey led the team in intentional passes. It was Evans, with 12. After him, it was Bill Madlock, 11, with Clark, McCovey and Marc Hill following, each with eight.

In defense of chucking platooning:

Last season Jim Dwyer (left hitter since departed for Boston) hit .205 against right-hand pitchers, .714 (5-for-7) against southpaws; lefty swinging Darrell Evans hit .255 against lefthanders, .237 against righties; righthanded hitting Hill batted .256 against righthanders, .218 against lefthanders; McCovey hit .287 against southpaws, .199 against righties; and right-handed swinging Mike Sadek batted .288 against righthanders, .139 against portsiders.

SSF nine tops Rams with a 'hitless' rally

By MIKE FICHER
Times Correspondent

Leave it to innovative coach Bob Brian and the South San Francisco baseball team to once again deviate from the time-honored traditions of baseball.

First, Brian installed a starting left-handed third baseman. Then, the Warriors forsook traditional knickers for trouser-length baseball pants.

Now, South City introduces . . . (drumroll, please) . . . the hitless rally.

Well, not really. The Warriors who wore an all-white uniform for the first time in the NPL this season did rap one hit. But, as Brian admitted, "even that was just a blooper."

Nevertheless, South City scored five runs in the first inning uprising, and pitcher Steve Bertolozzi made them stand up for a crucial 6-4 over Westmoor Friday.

The win lifted the Warriors into a three-way tie for fourth place in the North Peninsula League at 3-5 with Westmoor and Oceana (which trounced Half Moon Bay Friday, 15-6). In other NPL games, Terra Nova remained undefeated with a 3-0 win over Serramonte and El Camino ended a four-game losing streak with an eight-inning 10-6 victory over Jefferson.

Brian's Warriors are opportunists, to say the least.

"We definitely try to make something happen," Brian said. "We will make something happen. Obviously it doesn't work all the time, but when it does work we can really cause problems."

While South City certainly created some of its own good fortune, Westmoor did pour gasoline on the fire in the first inning rally.

The Westmoor starter hit the first batter and walked the second, and after a wild pitch and two stolen bases, the Warriors had runners at second and third. George Bird then stroked a grounder which was misplayed into two runs. The designated hitter scored when the pitcher muffed an easy throw to first on Ed Serrata's comebacker.

"We will make something happen."

Lo and behold, then South City got a hit. Bertolozzi lifted a blooper which dropped in for an RBI single. Another hit batsmen and another Ram error and presto — a five run "hitless rally."

The Rams pecked away at the lead, led by Stuart Ramirez' three singles, three stolen bases and two RBIs, but Bertolozzi was tough when he had to be.

"After the first inning when we got the five runs, it really gave me a lift. It made it easier to pitch," Bertolozzi said. "They hit a couple of shots, but the defense played well behind me. The few balks didn't help any, but the big lead didn't hurt. I was glad to get through it, because we really needed the win."

Terra Nova continues to look less than awesome — but the Tigers continue to win. The Tigers hit only a couple of balls hard off Serramonte junior Steve Chester, but outhit the Regents 9-4 and capitalized on five Regent errors — which was the game's most important statistics.

In the top of the seventh, Serramonte got runners to first and second with no outs. Exit winning pitcher Andy Mooney for Terra Nova, enter Mel Graham in relief. After Graham recorded a strikeout, he got Serramonte's next hitter to ground into a game-ending 4-6-3 double play.

Junior Rich Belli had a short sacrifice fly in the first frame for the Tigers, and Chuck Pomicpic and Jim Parque each had two hits for the league-leaders.

Catcher Tim Bettencourt cracked a three-run homer for Half Moon Bay in the third, but HMB eventually got out-hit 10-9,. Oceana's Tim Cory cracked a pair of hits and accounted for four RBI's, and Phil Piserchio added two hits for the Sharks — who have now re-emerged as a playoff contender with two straight wins after a 1-5 start.

Jefferson almost had El Camino beaten. Almost. The indians, bidding to hand the Colts their fifth straight loss (including three setbacks in tournament play last week), led 6-4 after six frames.

But Camino rallied in the seventh. With two outs and two men on, Mark Evans made it 6-5 with a run-scoring single. Then the Colts' Jeff Pettigrew — who went 1-for-6 at the plate on the afternoon — picked a very crucial time to get his one hit: he singled to drive across the tying run.

Camino went ahead for good in the eighth when catcher Merlin Nelson led off with a well-hit home run. The Colts then went on to score three insurance runs, all unearned.

Trojan thins set records

MERCED — Randy Peterson and Lorens Lebherz each set a school record for Skyline Collge in the Merced Invitational Track Meet at Merced College Saturday.

Peterson ran a 48.5 in the 400 meters to claim a Trojan mark. He finished second in the race. Skyline's Ed Galleguillos ran seventh in that event with a 50.2. his personal best.

Lebherz set his record in the triple jump with a distance of 48-9, good for second place.

Skyline finished fifth overall behind winner Hartnell. Butte, Modesto and Merced. Fifteen schools participated.

Steve Roller of Skyline won the javelin with a throw of 207-3. Roller also placed second in the shot put with a personal best toss of 47-7¾. Trojan runner Jeff Maxwell was third in the 800 meters at 1:54.6.

None of the Trojan distance runners made the trip. All were preparing for the Coast Conference finals, to be held at skyline Saturday.

Skyline alone in conference lead

APTOS — Skyline College is alone in first place in the Coast Conference baseball race after defeating Cabrillo 7-3 Saturday.

The Trojans went into the game tied for the lead with Cabrillo; both had 9-3 conference records.

Catcher Daryl Fazzio slammed a three-run homer in the top of the ninth to clinch the game for Skyline.

The Trojans had taken a 2-0 lead after a Don Feblowitz home run in the second and a run in the third. Cabrillo got one run in the fourth and put two more runs across the plate in the ninth before Gordon Shirley could get the side out. All three Cabrillo runs were unearned.

After Fazzio hit his homer, Feblowitz followed with a double, stole third and scored along with Rainer Binsfeld (who had walked and stole second) when Dave Gazzano doubled.

The loss drops Cabrillo into a second-place tie with Gavilan, which defeated Menlo College 23-3.

"Shirley wasn't quite as sharp as usual," said Trojan Coach Bill Herron. "He was working with a bum ankle and did a remarkable job."

Shirley has allowed one earned run in 43 1/3 innings of Coast Conference play. His E.R.A. is 0.21.

NPL track roundup

It was a day for runaways

It was a day of one-sided scores Thursday in North Peninsula League track.

Not one meet was settled by less than 63 points, and that last was undefeated Westmoor's 93½-30½ win over host Oceana.

The top mark of the meet was probably Ralph Apostolos 153-0 heave in the discus throw for Westmoor. Steady Kurt Larcher also had a fine day, winning the 440 in 53.1 and the 880 in 2:01.7. Teammate Eric Raphael captured the 100-yard dash in 10 flat and the 220 in 23.1.

In the girls' competition, Oceana was closer, losing 69-40. Renee Jackson was a triple winner for Westmoor, annexing the 100, 220 and long jump. Ambrosi Patrick picked up double wins for Oceana (440, high jump).

Serramonte-Half Moon Bay

Serramonte had no trouble disposing of host Half Moon Bay 104½-24½.

There were no outstanding marks in the meet, but Eric Jones scored double victories for the Regents with wins in the 100 and 220.

Half Moon Bay's girls upended Serramonte 59-45. Becky Schmidt of Half Moon Bay won the 880, mile and two-mile. Teammate Dannen Waters was victorious in the 110 low hurdles and the 440.

Terra Nova-Jefferson

Terra Nova eased past Jefferson 102-32.

Although Jefferson was defeated, Arthur Diaz was in top form. Diaz clocked 51.9 in the 440 and won the 220 in a respectable 23.0.

Terra Nova distance runner Alan Peterson came home in front in both the mile and two-mile races, and Ross and Ramon Osotio were their usual consistent selves.

In the girls' division, Terra Nova downed Jeff 67-40.

Jeff's Vanessa Woods had a couple of nice races, winning the 100-yard dash in 11.2 and the 220 in 26.1.

Terra Nova sophomore Kerry Lauer clocked a fine 2:27.6 in the 880.

South City-El Camino

The Warriors whipped the small El Camino squad 110-13.

South City weightman George Niauluku won both the discus and shot put events.

The South City girls nipped El Camino 54-48.

El Camino's Lori Costello provided the high point of the meet. Costello won the 110 high hurdles in 17.0 and leaped a superb 17-8 in the long jump.

Lynn Mosely performed well for south city with wins in the 100 and 220. Teammate Carla Clay won both weight events.

Profiling an 'intense' Mary Griffin

Perspective

By ARVILLE FINACOM

If one were required to characterize Millbrae City Councilwoman Mary Griffin with one word, it might well be "intense." Griffin takes her job seriously and, although involved deeply in areas some citizens consider "frivolous," goes out of her way to explain to critics her strong convictions about city beautification and the promotion of cultural arts.

"I wish people would realize," she says," that anti-litter beautification efforts save city staff time and energy spent in cleanup." Griffin makes a second, rather pragmatic point in emphasizing her concern with beautification saying, "The more attractive a town is, the more property values are enhanced."

According to Griffin, most critics of beautification, some offering "Spirit of Prop. 13" arguments and insisting the city is "wasting taxpayers money," don't understand the purposes of the city's Beautification Commission. The group concerns itself with ways to enhance the visible view of Millbrae, but makes no attempt to dictate to private property holders, even though some of them, especially shopping center and supermarket operators who allow broken glass to pile up uncollected in parking lots, are a source of serious concern. All the commission can recommend and the city do is request owners to clean up their premises in the interest of their patrons' safety and convenience.

Surprisingly, Millbrae doesn't have an ordinance governing residential refuse disposal. Other cities require every household unit to contract for the services of a garbage collection agent. As a result, household garbage in Millbrae often is "dumped" in city-owned downtown refuse containers, creating a sanitation problem the cans are not designed to meet.

Consideration of a proposed litter ordinance is business for the Beautification Commission even though its adoption or rejection is up to the City Council. Such a litter ordinance, plus strengthened enforcement, could put an end to household and construction site trash dumping as well as littering by pedestrians and drivers. Balance the cost of initial enforcement (after a few well-publicized fines and penalties people might begin to get the message) against the expense of cleanup and it could be considered an acceptable tradeoff. As Griffin puts it, "Citizens have to ask themselves, What kind of community do we want?"

Parking lot and El Camino Real median strip beautification projects over the past several years have led to heated discussion in Millbrae. Griffin points out that the improvements all are low-maintenance and stresses that constant cleanup of the areas would be far more expensive.

Griffin has a favorite quote she uses whenever she meets those critical of city beautification. Although not original with him, she quotes Charles Speroni from the UCLA Fine Arts Department as saying, "In an ugly and desolate world, the richest man can buy only ugliness."

As chairman of the Millbrae Beautification Commission, Griffin is by no means alone in her efforts. The commission has existed for many years and on it a number of concerned and interested Millbrae citizens has served.

Griffin's own first city service was as a beautification commissioner, appointed some eight years ago. Currently, including representatives from Mills and Capuchino high schools among its membership, the commission meets monthly to discuss items brought to it by interested citizens as well as materials referred to it by the City Council.

The commission aims constantly to acquire local support. When it decided to designate April 16 to 21 as "Clean for Spring Week" in Millbrae, cooperation was requested from and given by the Millbrae Chamber of Commerce, organized church and youth groups as well as many individuals from the community. During all of last week, youth groups and civic-minded citizens, volunteers of all ages and interest, joined to pick up litter and debris scattered on city streets, in parks, on open space land and in vacant downtown areas. Last Saturday a concerted effort cleaned up especially unsightly places.

Griffin feels that litter has low priority on most people's lists. "It's up to us to re-educate and make them aware of the problems litter causes," she says. Griffin and the rest of the commission members hope that "Clean for Spring Week" will provide a focus for citizens, causing them to stop and think before littering, as well as to pick up litter when they see it.

In another area, Griffin sees the commission providing leadership. Dave Laclergue, a graduate in forestry from UC Davis and whose father teaches at Capuchino High, is planning a "tree list" to be made available to all Millbrae residents through the Beautification Commission. On it, he will list trees and shrubbery recommended for Millbrae's specific climate and soil conditions. Also included will be descriptions of root structures, shade and sun tolerance and demand, habitual behavior and other comments of interest to residents who already evidence great concern about the kind and quality of greenery grown locally. In addition, Laclergue may be able to present a slide show sometime toward the end of May illustrating the plants on his list. The public will be invited.

Although beautification and cultural arts are two of Griffin's "first loves," her other activities as city councilwoman give her as much pleasure, and she addresses them in an equally earnest manner. As City Council delegate, Griffin serves with the Association for Bay Area Governments on its Legislation Committee. She also is chairman of the North San Mateo County Council of Cities. In both these duties she attends meetings, reports back to her colleagues on the council and, after assessing their feelings and thoughts on regional issues, carries back information to guide her activities with the larger groups.

Griffin also sees a genuine need in Millbrae for a senior citizen advisory board, since the population of those over 55 has increased 31 percent in the last four years. In fact, it was to meet the increased need for meeting and activity space that Griffin backed the proposal to secure at city expense surplus San Francisco Water Co. land and buildings.

Perhaps Griffin's intensity shows best in her vision. She feels strongly that citizens look to the City Council for direction and that the council owes it to constitutents to make the best decisions possible. "We're in a period of great change," she admits, "And readjustments are necessary in all our thinking."

To cite a few that come to mind personally: Limited expansion in Millbrae, relatively fixed revenue, property values likely to remain high, and upward-aging population. Millbrae's future seems more likely to be one of "maintenance" than "progress."

The Regent

Muli-Ethnic Day, a Serramonte High School tradition, will be Thursday during lunch period.

For those who don't know what Multi-Ethnic Day is, the different clubs and classes represent countries, sponsor booths and sell cultural foods, display various artifacts and give students a taste of ethnic folk dances, music and languages

This year, seven groups will sponsor booths in the south mall.

The seven clubs or classes participating in the lunch-time activities are the freshmen class, booth 1; Oriental Club, booth 2; Filipino Club, booth 3; junior class, booth 4; B.S.U., booth 5; Drama Club, booth 6; and Latinos Unidos, booth 7.

This year's Serramonte spring production is entitled "Once Upon a Mattress." A few of the many characters in the play are the King, Queen, Princess, Prince, Wizard, Jester, Larken, Harry and the Minstrel.

The musical comedy is based on the story "The Princess and the Pea." Bob Wagner is directing this play, which will be performed May 5, 6, 8, 10, 11, and 12.

This play will be one of the best productions the Drama Department has ever done. Don't miss it.

The girls badminton team, under the coaching of Mr. Harrich, looks very promising. There are many returning players and also many newcomers. Returnees are Karen Bourdon, Carol Hall, Beatrice Karavos, Shelley Morris, Lynn Vannuchi, Carol Vargas, Linda Wong, Diane Wight, and Linda Young.

New talent on the team includes Merle Abaja, Letty Acevedo, Chantay Allmond, Betty Anderson, Myrna Galindez, Irma Garcia, Leslie Kirkwood, Liz McNeil, Amelia Magot, Marcy Raeta, Josephine Rubio, and Denise Theis.

Another girls team, in gymanstics, is doing very well. There are three strong teams this season, and each is capable of seizing first place in the league. The three levels of competition are varsity, junior varsity and novice.

Varsity team members are Rhonda Holman, Rowena Holman, Diana Law, Sandi Rosenthal, and Lori Stables. The varisty team won the title last year and it looks like it will do it again this year.

The junior varsity team is open to anyone who has had a previous experience in gymanstics competition. Gymnasts on the junior varsity team are Brenda Calabro, Letty Contreas, Cathy Hardey, Laura George, Robin Raeta, Sandy Scherer, Carol Tamblin, Lisa Watson, and Dana Youngblood.

The novice team is open to anyone without experience in gymnastics competition. These girls first must learn the compulsory routines for the beam, bars, vault and floor exercise.

Last week Serramonte's Executive Board sponsored another great assembly. Pepsi-Cola presented the student body with "The History of Animation."

INFLATION FIGHTING ideas

12 "Bag It"
Brown bagging isn't just for school kids any more. Office workers, blue collar workers, even business executives have caught on to the many advantages of packing their own lunches. Brown bag lunches provide greater flexibility in scheduling lunch hours, menus can be much more elective and, of course, as the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs intimates, there is a sizeable economy value in bringing lunches from home instead of paying for restaurant meals.
Safeway has everything for the Brown Bagger: breads, spreads, luncheon meats, soups, cakes, as well as lunch bags, lunch boxes, thermos bottles. Get into the brown bagging routine and strike another blow in the fight against inflation!

The Gamesman

Saving with a 'license'

By RICHARD C. MOON

The so-called "licensed game" presents both a problem and an opportunity for the game buyer.

A licensed game is a game derived from a character, a novel, comic book, movie or TV series. Laverne and Shirley made a big hit on TV and almost immediately there was a game on the market called "Laverne and Shirley."

Game producers try to take advantage of any popular name or theme. These games have instant sales because they have built-in identity. Think of any top TV series and you will find a game based on it. Barney Miller, Mash, Incredible Hulk, Battlestar Galactica, Muppetts, Hardy Boys — the list is almost endless.

The problem is that some of these games are just plain lousy.

The opportunity is that some of them are very good games and almost all of them are priced lower than most other board games. The lower prices are the result of several marketing factors. The games are not made to last forever, only as long as the name has popularity. The advertising budget doesn't have to be overly large because of the identity factor.

The trick is to find what is in that beautifully illustrated box before you purchase.

Most of the better game companies help by showing in detail what the game is all about in picture form on the bottom of the box. Some even go so far as to tell you how to play it, along with a list of the game equipment.

Don't buy blind, if you can't tell what the game is about, don't buy. Most good game stores will have someone to advise you. Don't be afraid to ask if "Mork and Mindy" is a good game or just a gimmick to take advantage of Robin Williams' popularity. Of course, that favorite nephew may insist he just has to own a copy of "Incredible Hulk" and you won't have a choice.

Licensed games are not new. They have been around since the very beginning of the game industry. "Famous Men" and "Horatio Alger" were produced in he 1880s. "Lucky Lindy" hit the market almost as soon as Lindberg landed in Paris. When radio became the big thing, "Amos n' Andy" and "The Lone Ranger" were good-selling games. In 1967 a political game called "Who Can Beat Nixon" did well.

Many licensed games are good buys for the family entertainment budget. But — caveat emptor — let the buyer beware.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD ★ JOHNSON

Blue Diamond bright S.F. dinner house

A best bet for pre-theater dining in San Francisco is the elegant new BLUE DIAMOND, a fresh seafood restaurant, at Taylor and Ellis across from the Hilton Tower. It's one of the Bay Area's most luxurious restaurants, yet dinners are priced from just $5.25. In charge of the kitchen is Chef Leonard, who formerly cooked for presidents and kings aboard American President Lines' luxury liner, SS President Hoover. Open for dinner nightly from 5 p.m. to midnight, $1 valet parking at the door ... PHIL LEHR promotes togetherness at his beautiful PHIL LEHR'S STEAKERY, on the lower level of the S.F. Hilton Tower, with superb specialties prepared for two persons: Order the flavorful Lamb Rack Wellington or Phil's Chateaubriand for a memorable dining treat ... Many who were attracted to the exotic new BRASS ELEPHANT ROOM with its decor reminiscent of Old Colonial India and located in the GROSVENOR AIRPORT INN, South San Francisco, for Easter Sunday brunch realized they had "discovered" something extra special in the way of brunch fare. General Manager JIM RAINE has announced that the same lavish spread and variety will continue to be offered every Sunday. Complimentary champagne for adults, plus a 20-foot salad table offering a choice of 25 items ... There are many luncheon favorites offered at BAYHILL LOUNGE. If you're lucky enough to hit the day of Corned Beef and Cabbage, you'll understand why so many head for this friendly eating and drinking spot.

Hail and farewell to Beardsley's gang

It's hail and farewell to BEARDSLEY'S, a Burlingame landmark, a tradition of lusty camaraderie, bountiful food, stimulating beverages, and good times presided over by those three jolly co-owners JACK O'BRIEN, PAT FINNEGAN and LES HYLTON, who made their place a home-away-from-home for many friends and patrons. The doors will close forever on May 5. The building will be torn down to make way for new development. So hurry for your last opportunity to partake of the good times here (and don't miss their "half-price sale" on some wines) ... Although the menu at LA PINATA is highlighted by a variety of Mexican combination plates, you'll also find American favorites, such as a hamburger and several sandwiches ... Big news for lovers of hickory-smoked barbecued ribs: The RIB SHACK in San Mateo will repeat their "buy-one-dinner-and-get-the second-dinner-at-half-price" special. Just clip their ad and present it at the restaurant. Offer good only through Monday, April 30 ... The menu at GONG'S Chinese restaurant, South San Francisco, has scores of choices for all kinds of Chinese dishes. Four different categories and combinations of complete dinners, too ... JERRY LYERLA has brought live country and western music for Sunday night foot-stompin' and dancin' at his lively JOHN'S PLACE in downtown Burlingame ... For something special in seafood, you'll find lobster offered several tempting ways at VINCE'S Italian and seafood restaurant.

Finocchio's now open six nights

FINOCCHIO'S, a world famed San Francisco landmark which continues to be a show attraction for visiting guests to the Bay Area and localites alike, is getting set for its spring and summer season. Now open six nights a week (closing only on Mondays) featuring four different shows each evening. The entire cast of comics, singers and dancers are dedicated to making your evening one to long remember ... JIM SNIADECKI, owner of SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S restaurant, is an active member of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce ... DEAN LEHR has announced the grand prize winners of the Tuesday evening dance contest at LEHR'S CABARET DISCO: MARILYN SANDIFUR and CRISPIN PIERCE of Berkeley. The couple will fly to Madrid, Spain, compliments of Lehr's Cabaret Disco. Dean's Wednesday eve dance contest continues, with a grand prize of a trip for two to Cairo, Egypt ... One reason why ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB, in the heart of S.F.'s Geary Street "Theater Row," is so popular with the cocktail crowd is that their "well" liquors are all top-name brands. All drinks are man-sized and prices are refreshingly moderate ... Just as the beautiful Pacific surf delivers an exciting vista to the visitor to Rockaway Beach in Pacifica, so also do NICK'S, THE MOONRAKER and CAPTAIN CHARLES, the three distinguished restaurants owned-operated for so many years by the GUST family (NICK, LORRAINE and son CHUCK) and their crew of loyal employees.

San Mateo welcomes Szechuan Hunan

There are some new faces in downtown San Mateo with smiles of welcome at their SZECHUAN HUNAN Chinese restaurant, located at 2nd Avenue and B Street). They're DOON WONG and his wife KIT LING, whose culinary skills are bringing smiles of appreciation from those who have tried their many house specialties. If you like hot spicy Hunan type Chinese food, you're going to love this place. Milder Mandarin or Cantonese style also available ... From now on, the bar adjacent to JOHN & KATHY'S PUB will be open from 12 Noon to Midnight Mondays through Thursdays, and until 1:30 a.m. on Friday nights ... One of the "Specialtes de la Maison" at L'AUBERGE, the intimate French country inn in Redwood City, is Capon Saute a la Mautarde et Cognaz Ali Bab ... When the BENJAMIN FRANKLIN HOTEL in San Mateo announced they were going to serve a Filet Mignon Steak Dinner in their famous Greenwillow Room Mondays through Saturdays for only $5.55, the response was great ... At ROMANO'S Italian restaurant in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, you get good food and good vibes, which is why so many have come to look upon this cozy place as a respite from the hurly-burly outside world ... Sauerbraten and Noodles with Sweetsauer Red Cabbage (roast is marinated) is a perennial dinner favorite at TILLIE'S LIL' FRANKFURT German and continental restaurant in Moss Beach ... Now that the baseball season is in full swing again, the friendly lounge at the KING'S TABLE BUFFET in Redwood City is once more packed with sports fans who flock in to catch the Giants games on the huge, seven-foot TV screen. Big cocktails and mixed drinks are still just $1.

THE DIET CORNER

By ELISE GENDAR

The list you save may be your own.

Take your shopping list apart. Before you set foot in the store, set eye on the list. What's there that doesn't belong on any self-respecting diet?

Let's see.

Cream-filled Slinkies. The kids just can't live without them (wonder where they learned that?). So, of course, you buy them. (You never eat them, do you?) The sure way of supplying "the kids" with their Slinkies is with a coin. Let them purchase the sweets en route home from school, if purchase they must. But don't let Slinkie darken your doorstep again.

Potato chips. Your husband simply adores potato chips with his beer and television. He gobbles and guzzles and never gains an ounce. You inhale pounds every time you pass the bowl. Tell him what those chips are doing to you and your self-esteem. He can chip away in the outside world; inside your sacred walls, let him eat vegetable crunchies.

Blueberry muffins. Your mother requires some "and" with the coffee when she pays her weekly call. Ply her with conversation, affection, and take a ride instead. You have more in common than calories. Don't muff your diet with a muffin.

There probably are other, more subtle intruders in that list. Like a quarter pound of butter for an extra Sunday breakfast treat, sugar-coated breakfast cereal, peanut butter, canned soups loaded with pasta and potatoes, "convenience" dinners. These all are diet slayers.

Instead, concentrate on the ingredients for a treat like this:

CHOCOLATE FUDGIES

10 teaspoons water
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1 package dry chocolate skim milk

Mix water and vanilla together. Add milk to make a thick paste. Roll into ½ inch balls and freeze. For a variation, add ½ tsp. instant coffee to milk.

The name of the game in diet shopping is "avoidance." You pare down all the extras. Then you treat yourself well by adding in calorie-safe luxuries. Have some mushrooms. Buy some out-of-season fruit — like those first strawberries brightening produce corners where they are.

One you've identified the hidden diet food traps, you won't get caught. If you don't have them sitting on your pantry shelves anymore.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

This Bake-Off winner, a colorful peach cake, includes pineapple cheese spread, which adds a flavorful moistness to the cake. Canned peaches are tucked inside this cake and it is brightly painted with red cinnamon drops that melt during baking. Finished off with a shiny glaze it is really a beauty.

PAINTED PEACH CAKE

1 package cake mix, either yellow, lemon, pineapple or white
½ cup (5 ounce jar) pasteurized Neufanchatel pineapple cheese spead or 2 (3 ounce) packages cream cheese
5 eggs (about 1¼ cups)
1 cup (1 pound can) well-drained sliced peaches
⅜ cup red cinnamon candies.

Generously grease and lightly flour 10-inch bundt or tube pan. (Even if you use a Teflon pan, grease and flour it.)

In larger mixer bowl combine one package dry cake mix, five ounces cheese spread and five eggs. Blend and beat as directed on package. Spoon well-drained peach slices over cake batter, (not touching sides of pan). Sprinkle one-third cup cinnamon candies over peaches, spoon remaining batter over candies. Bake at 350 degrees 35 to 45 minutes until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool upright in pan for 15 minutes; remove from pan. Prepare glaze; drizzle over warm cake.

GLAZE

Combine one half cup sifted powdered sugar with one to two tablespoons lemon juice. (Enough juice to make thin enough to drizzel.)

Down the road, officials plan for Memorial Day driving

With the help of a talking Volkswagen, local traffic safety officials are into a massive public awareness drive aimed at reducing the number of traffic accidents and resultant injuries and deaths over the Memorial Day weekend.

Meeting at the San Carlos City Hall Monday afternoon, representatives from local police departments, the California Highway Patrol, the Department of Motor Vehicles and the San Mateo County Safety Council mapped out plans for an intensive public education program to alert motorists to the hazards of sloppy driving and the preventative action that drivers can take to ensure that the highways will be safer.

Playing a leading role in the campaign will be Otto the Auto, a Volkswagen Beetle replete with eyes, ears, mouth and police hat — brainchild of Hillsborough policeman Ernie Lena. Otto travels to local schools, educating children on traffic safety, and he will be drafted for appearances at the county's three DMV offices during the week before Memorial Day.

Lena gave the group a short demonstration of Otto's talents following the strategy session.

Earlier, San Carlos Police Chief Owen McGuigan had outlined the campaign called "Steering is not Enough." It will involve the distribution of pamphlets and posters through local police departments and businesses, along with speeches by safety officials at local service clubs, to alert the public to the program.

The idea began in Fresno, where that city's mayor was killed in an auto accident, according to DMV officials. That accident sparked the idea for an increased public awareness safety campaign.

Statewide plans call for the Goodyear blimp to be up for two weeks, flashing safety messages on its electronic reader board, from San Diego to Redding.

Locally, in addition to Otto, the campaign will feature public service announcements on local radio stations, several billboards donated by Foster & Kleiser, poster and slogan contests for schools and clubs and wide distribution of literature.

Walter Lunsford of the California Association for Safety Education outlined plans for coordination through local driver education programs. He emphasized the need to "get everyone involved" in the program, noting the increased awareness of traffic safety by high school students since the recent tragic accident which took the lives of five Foster City girls.

Ralph Kuhlmann of the San Mateo County Safety Council urged support for the program, but added that the problem of auto safety may be "overshadowed by the gas crisis."

The goal of the county program, according to McGuigan, is "the safest Memorial Day weekend in the county, and possibly the safest year in recent history."

$2.7 million claim

The city of South San Francisco is being asked to pay $2.7 million to the development company which recently agreed to put $1.6 million into an escrow account to remodel 100 condominiums that allegedly did not meet building standards for earthquake safety and fire protection.

Named in the claim filed by the JHS Real Estate Co. (formerly J.H. Snyder Co.) are present and former city officials — including building inspectors, planning commissioners, City Council members, Fire Department members and the city manager.

The claim asks that the city pay $2.7 million plus interest. This includes the $1.6 million that JHS had to pay the homeowners in Westborough Hills Conodminium Association No. 4 and the fees and costs in defending that action.

In its complaint against the developer several years ago, the homeowners alleged the condominiums were not built to code and they were defectively constructed.

In the settlement, the defendants deny any wrongdoing. An escrow account was set up and JHS placed $1,646,000 in it to be used for remodeling.

The homes are located on Fairfax Way in Westborough Hills, less than one mile from the San Andreas Fault.

The claim states that the city misclassified the condominiums and that city employees failed to notify the development company of alleged defects in the property.

The City Council has responded that the claim is legally "deficient," saying the statute of limitations has run out and there is no cause for action.

Other current matters before the City Council:

• A public hearing has been set for May 16 to consider a Planning Commission recommendation to exclude the issuance of permits for certain land uses.

• Council members were notified the widening of El Camino Real between Arroyo Drive and Hickey Boulevard is going to cost more than the state estimated. The low bid was almost $3.2 million, while the state estimated the cost at $2.84 million.

The city and state are sharing the cost of the widening. The city's share has increased from $166,200 to $214,500, according to Caltrans representatives.

• Agreement has been reached with about one-half the city employees to give them a 6 percent salary increase retroactive to July 1, 1978.
